A. PII We Collect

We may collect the following Personally Identifiable Information from users who register a membership, leave an inquiry or buy our products or services, including but not limited to name, e-mail address, telephone number or wallet address. We also use “cookies” to collect certain information from users, including but not limited to the type of Internet browser, IP address, number of visits, average time spent on the site. A cookie is a string of data our system sends to your computer and then uses to identify your computer when you return to our Website. Cookies give us usage data, like how often you visit, where you go on the site, and what you do.

B. Our Use of PII

We use your Personally Identifiable Information to create your account, to communicate with you about products and services you’ve purchased, to offer you additional products, services and information. We use cookies so that our Website can remember you and provide you with the information you’re most likely to need. We use information gained through cookies to compile statistical information about use of our Website, such as the time users spend at the site and the pages they visit most often. We will send you information periodically, such as product release and the Newsletter. If you don't want to receive information from us, please contact us or reply a mail with a subject "stop a subscription" or by other ways instructed in the Newsletter to stop receiving information from us.

C. Protection of PII

We adopt the data security tools to protect Personally Identifiable Information. Unfortunately, even with these measures, we cannot guarantee the full security of PII. By using our Website, you acknowledge and agree that you use our Website with a certain degree risk. We do not rent, sell, or share personal information about you with other people or companies except to provide products or services you've requested or agreed.

D. Contractor and Other Third Party Access to PII

We may give certain independent contractor access to Personally Identifiable Information only for the necessary and inevitable situation. All those contractors are required to sign contracts in which they promise to protect PII using procedures with the same or stricter degree to ours. (Users are not third party beneficiaries of those contracts.) We also may disclose PII to attorneys, collection agencies, or law enforcement authorities for contract violations, or illegal behavior only when lawful necessary. And we may disclose any information demanded in a court order or otherwise required by law or to prevent imminent harm to persons or property.

Third Party Processors

Our carefully selected partners and service providers may process personal information about you.

Except as set forth in this Privacy Policy, we do not share PII with third parties.

E. Accessing and Correcting Your PII

You can access and change Personally Identifiable Information we stored through your "My Account" page.

F. Modifying, Freezing or Deleting Your Personally Identifiable Information

If you wish to modify your Personally Identifiable Information, or if you wish to discontinue receiving information from us or wish to freeze or remove your Personally Identifiable Information from our database, you may do so by contacting us via Link.

G. Amendment of This Privacy Policy

We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time by posting a new version on this page. The new version will become effective on the date posted, which will be listed at the end of the page as the Last Updated.
